(Weekend/Professional Program)
Session: 2026-2027

BUP invites applications from potential candidates for M.Sc. in Environmental Science and Management (MESM) Program

OVERVIEW AND PROSPECT OF THE DEGREE

The M.Sc. in Environmental Science and Management is an advanced multidisciplinary program that integrates environmental science, technology, and management to equip graduates with the knowledge and practical skills to address complex environmental challenges and support sustainable development.

The curriculum covers climate change, pollution control, waste and wastewater management, urban environmental management, environmental policy and governance, circular economy, industrial health and safety, and sustainable development, while developing students' analytical, problem-solving, and research skills.

Graduates can pursue careers as academicians, environmental managers, sustainability professionals, consultants, development practitioners, and researchers across industries, government agencies, NGOs, and environmental organizations. Potential employers include:

- Industrial sectors (e.g., garments)
- Government and environmental agencies (e.g., LGED, DoE)
- Environmental monitoring and consulting firms
- National and international NGOs

The program prepares professionals to contribute to a resilient, sustainable, and equitable future and support the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Build your career in environmental science and management. APPLY NOW!
